

Coe Awards Convocation Will Serve Dual Purpose

The annual Coe college awards be the final all-college event of for accomplishment in various departments, including the sciences, music, dramatics, scholastic honorary fraternities. The public is invited. Announcement of award winners will cover a variety of sociology and foreign languages. Students elected to Alpha Lambda Delta, national scholastic honorary for freshmen women, also will be presented, as well as prizes for achievement in athletics and on campus introduced. Another group to be cited is the seniors who have completed presentation of seniors senior honors work, which includes a major independent study project and preparation of a thesis.

Coe students start the last week of regular classes Monday. Final class sessions will be Friday, and examinations will be given the next week, June 3-6. Commencement will be Sunday, June 9, with baccalaureate exercises at 10 a.m. and the commencement ceremony at 2 p.m.

Gage Union Presented Architecture Award

At its 1968 international design awards dinner in the Pick-Congress hotel, Chicago, Institutions Magazine last week presented an award to Gage Memorial Union at Coe college for architectural excellence of its food service department. Gage Union, a new building, was designed by Brown, Healey and Bock of Cedar Rapids. The award was accepted by Duane D. Arnold, Coe college's food service director. The architectural firm was Edward Healey.
