

Flooding Continues; No Additional Hazardous Weather

Dry conditions will continue through the work week, though ongoing flooding concerns will persist through at least today in many locations. Caution when driving is advised, as numerous roads remain flooded and/or closed. Additionally, rivers will continue to respond to the recent heavy rainfall and will likely stay in flood for the next few days. No additional hazardous weather is expected through the remainder of the outlook period.