

NW Flow Snow Conf Call Minutes for Aug 12, 2011

Participants from ASU, WFOs LWX, GSP and RNK

Just a brief call to talk about some plans for a bigger Sept conf call where we hope to have most of the folks who have been a part of the team participating. We will use this call to review some of our research projects on Google Sites (so we need to make necessary updates before that call), and overall goals for the coming year, including status of field projects/data collection.

In the meantime, will be trying to reach some folks formerly or currently with RENC1 to explore potential collaborations in general with the NWS and specifically with NWFS-related forecast challenges, and also some folks who have remained on the mailing list but have not been on a call in a very long time.

We also hope to have a presentation by Doug Miller later this fall summarizing his latest modeling efforts focused on a recent notable event.

Future calls:

We will schedule the big Sept call with Doodle calendar to pick the best date for most of the team.
