

...NOAA Weather Radio Off the Air...

WNG-586...Located in Henderson...serving the northeast Piedmont and south central Virginia on 162.500 MHZ remains off the air. With devastating flooding from Hurricane Matthew impacting the region, technicians are unable to dispatch to the site. As a result, it could be several days before the transmitter is back on the air. During this outage, listeners can tune into WXL-58...Located in Chapel Hill...serving the northeast Piedmont on 162.550 MHZ. We apologize for the inconvenience.