Political Payoff

Turner Says

RICH MUNSON (AP) - For Kansas farmers, there’s nothing more “seriously” important than the 1985 federal farm bill. The state’s new governor, Bill Touchton, is one of them.

In a letter to the Senate Agriculture Committee, which will meet Wednesday to debate the bill, Turner said: “We appreciate the efforts you are making to ensure that this legislation is put in such a way as to benefit the people of Kansas.

Freeze Closed By Fire

A U.S. fire official said today that the fire closed the state’s only Federal Fire Service in New York City.

The official, J. Howard Beardsley, said the fire had started in the basement of the Federal Fire Service building on Central Park West and was spreading to the nearby streets.

The fire started in the building’s basement and quickly spread to the second floor, where it burned through the ceiling.

Residents were evacuated from the building and surrounding area as firefighters battled the blaze.

The cause of the fire is under investigation.
