City Formally Eases Student Voting Rules

The Iowa City City Council Tuesday night formally eased city voting regulations.

The Council approved a resolution which will allow students who have the required residency and a driver's license to vote in city elections.

The new rule will allow students to vote if they have lived in Iowa City for at least 30 days and have a driver's license or a signed affidavit from an adult district resident who is a city resident and a registered voter.

The Council also discussed the possibility of a special election to be held in the spring to gather more information on the issue.

City Tree-Planting Projects Finished; Public Help Asked

Iowa City has completed four tree-planting projects costing $3,799 and is asking citizens to help maintain the trees.

Burton, a 22-year-old Iowa City resident, said the city is asking for volunteers to help keep the trees healthy.

Burton said the city is planning to plant trees in several locations, including the downtown area and along the riverfront.

He said the city is also looking for volunteers to help with the maintenance of the trees.

SOMETHING TO YOUL ABOUT—Owen Jennings, 18, and Joe Ewalt of 221 Pearl St., found a mushroom that is 12 inches long and weighs 13 ounces.

The two mushroom hunters, who are members of a local mushroom hunters group, said they found the mushroom near the University of Iowa campus.

Riley Asks For Statue Of Grimes

State Sen. Tim Riley of Cedar Rapids, a Republican, has asked for a statue to be erected in honor of former Iowa Sen. Grimes.

Riley, who is running for the Senate, said Grimes was a great leader for the state and deserved a statue.

Grimes, who served in the Senate from 1928 to 1954, was a prominent leader in Iowa politics.

He was a member of the Senate's Appropriations Committee and served as its chair for many years.

The statue would be placed on the Iowa State Capitol grounds.

Presbyterian General Assembly

Overturns Charges Against Bakers

The Presbyterian General Assembly has overturned charges against the Bakers, a local church.

The Bakers were charged with disrupting the peace and were found guilty.

The Assembly overturned the verdict, citing a lack of evidence.

The Bakers, who are members of the church, have been told they will be reinvested in their positions.

Employees, whether they are in a factory or a school, should be treated with respect and fairness.

They deserve to be treated as human beings, not just as workers.
