Storm Rocks City at 4:57 P.M. Wednesday

WHERE WERE YOU? The tornado winds hit the downtown Oelwein area at 4:57 p.m. Wednesday. The results of the storm will have side effects on each and every resident of the community during the next week.

ONE OF OELWEIN’S business establishments leveled in the storm was Barney’s Texaco at the north edge of the city. Fred’s Super Valu, Sperry’s Garage, and the Book & Art were also heavily damaged in the immediate area.

service, in intensive care at Mercy Hospital for intensive care, was able to be transferred to Mercy Hospital for intensive care.

Oelwein Speciality, Sacred Heart Church, and Presbyterian Church were all set up in the basement of the Sacred Heart Church, and Presbyterian Church were all set up in the basement of the Sacred Heart Church.

Over 200 members of the Iowa National Guard were on duty along with members of the Iowa Highway Patrol, Oelwein City Police, the American Red Cross, and the Salvation Army helping in the clean-up efforts.

Over 500 members of the Iowa National Guard were on duty along with members of the Iowa Highway Patrol, Oelwein City Police, the American Red Cross, and the Salvation Army helping in the clean-up efforts.

There was no immediate danger of fire, but the damage was extensive. Over 200 members of the Iowa National Guard were on duty along with members of the Iowa Highway Patrol, Oelwein City Police, the American Red Cross, and the Salvation Army helping in the clean-up efforts.

There was no immediate danger of fire, but the damage was extensive. Over 200 members of the Iowa National Guard were on duty along with members of the Iowa Highway Patrol, Oelwein City Police, the American Red Cross, and the Salvation Army helping in the clean-up efforts.

There was no immediate danger of fire, but the damage was extensive. Over 200 members of the Iowa National Guard were on duty along with members of the Iowa Highway Patrol, Oelwein City Police, the American Red Cross, and the Salvation Army helping in the clean-up efforts.

There was no immediate danger of fire, but the damage was extensive. Over 200 members of the Iowa National Guard were on duty along with members of the Iowa Highway Patrol, Oelwein City Police, the American Red Cross, and the Salvation Army helping in the clean-up efforts.

There was no immediate danger of fire, but the damage was extensive. Over 200 members of the Iowa National Guard were on duty along with members of the Iowa Highway Patrol, Oelwein City Police, the American Red Cross, and the Salvation Army helping in the clean-up efforts.

There was no immediate danger of fire, but the damage was extensive. Over 200 members of the Iowa National Guard were on duty along with members of the Iowa Highway Patrol, Oelwein City Police, the American Red Cross, and the Salvation Army helping in the clean-up efforts.

There was no immediate danger of fire, but the damage was extensive. Over 200 members of the Iowa National Guard were on duty along with members of the Iowa Highway Patrol, Oelwein City Police, the American Red Cross, and the Salvation Army helping in the clean-up efforts.

There was no immediate danger of fire, but the damage was extensive. Over 200 members of the Iowa National Guard were on duty along with members of the Iowa Highway Patrol, Oelwein City Police, the American Red Cross, and the Salvation Army helping in the clean-up efforts.

There was no immediate danger of fire, but the damage was extensive. Over 200 members of the Iowa National Guard were on duty along with members of the Iowa Highway Patrol, Oelwein City Police, the American Red Cross, and the Salvation Army helping in the clean-up efforts.