

The NWS Burlington, VT is scheduling the warm season virtual Skywarn course for 2026. This training session is for those interested in becoming a certified Skywarn® Spotter or looking for a refresher. Registration is free and open to all.

We will be using Facebook Live for this session. Please register ahead of time using this form. The link for the session is here.

Class schedules may be altered due to weather - if we need to reschedule we will reach out via the email address you provide on the registration form.

We will discuss the following topics:

- What is Skywarn? What does it mean for us?
- Overview of thunderstorm science and forecasting
- Storm types and convective warnings
- Safety and reporting severe weather

You may contact our SKYWARN™ program leader, Rebecca Duell, at rebecca.duell@noaa.gov with any questions and if you would like to schedule a class in your local community.
