

Stay alert with NOAA Weather Radio

Now offered in portable and battery powered options, NOAA Weather Radio activates an audible alarm following the issuance of a weather warning by the NWS. Program special codes to customize alerts. These radios not only provide warning details, but can also be used for forecasts, climate information, and weather observations.

Cell Phone Apps

With the rise in smart phone usage, various weather apps have joined the markets. Each app is unique in what it offers the user, and promotes a custom weather experience. If you use your smart phone as your primary means for obtaining weather information, be sure you use one that alerts for NWS watches, warnings, and advisories.
