Snow Falls On North Florida
As Yankee Winter Hits Dixie

By the Associated Press

Snowy scenes, freezing rain, muddy roads and mail and Post Office service delays were encountered across Florida Friday, as rain and snow moved into the state. Severe winter weather warnings were issued by the National Weather Service for several Florida counties.

It was the second time in a week that severe winter weather warnings have been issued for Florida. The first time was on Monday, Dec. 12, when severe winter weather warnings were issued for several Florida counties.

"The lake has been side to side," said a man standing in the snow. "It was the worst snowstorm we've had in years." As the snow fell, the wind increased, making it difficult for drivers to see the road.

Weathermen said it was the worst snowstorm since 1978, when a blizzard hit the state. They said the snowfall was heaviest in the north and east of the state.

"The snow was very heavy," said a woman standing in the snow. "I've never seen anything like this before." She said she had been living in Florida for 10 years and had never seen such heavy snow.

Anchorage, Alaska, and Fairbanks, Alaska, were also hit by severe winter weather. The snowfall was the heaviest in the state in more than 10 years.

Today's Forecast
Is Just Plain Cold

(Continued on Page 1A)

Snow Falls On North Florida Again

(Continued from Page 1A)

The University of Texas at Austin and all public schools in the state were closed as schools become concerned with the snow and cold.

Schools were closed in Alabama, South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas. Oil and gas producers are concerned with the snow and cold.

Today's Forecast
Is Just Plain Cold

(Continued from Page 1A)

I saw the scene on the snow scene, eyeing snowbound motorists around Florida.

The snowfall caused widespread delays on the roads and highways. A few accidents were reported, but there were no serious injuries.

Oil and gas producers are concerned with the snow and cold.

Schools were closed in Alabama, South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas. Oil and gas producers are concerned with the snow and cold.

Today's Forecast
Is Just Plain Cold

(Continued from Page 1A)