

Florida Keys Marine Weather Update

Updated 6:15 p.m. EDT, Monday, 05 June 2025

Florida Keys Marine Weather Highlights:

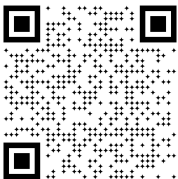

- ★ Gentle to moderate ESE breezes will prevail as a sprawling subtropical high pressure cell increasingly dominates the local weather pattern over the next several days.
- ★ Very dry air aloft associated with a Saharan Air Layer plume will suppress or inhibit shower and thunderstorm development over the weekend, with corresponding low rain and thunder chances.
- ★ No tropical cyclone threats are expected for at least the next seven days.
