Storm Data and Unusual Weather Phenomena - November 2020

Location	Date/Time	Deaths & Injuries	Property & Crop Dmg	Event Type and Details
EXAS, South Panhandl	e
. , ,	CASTRO, (TX-Z023) SWISHER, (TX-Z026) CH DCHRAN, (TX-Z034) HOCKLEY, (TX-Z035) LU		,
	11/01/20 00:00 CST		0	Drought
	11/30/20 23:59 CST		0
•	colling Plains and Childress County. Most of	the Rolling Plains	remained in abno	rmally dry (D0) to moderate drought (D1). Only one notable precipitation County where Aspermont rece on the order of up to one quart the soil moisture ranks in the l	event occurred during the month of Novemb ived 1.50 inches of rainfall. However, areas o er inch. Soil moisture outside of areas with i owest first percentile. Cattle continued to red	er. A significant a on the Caprock rec rrigation remains	mount of rainfall v eived significantly very low, especial	vas observed in Stonewall / less rainfall with values ly on the Caprock where noderate drought (D1). Only one notable precipitation County where Aspermont rece on the order of up to one quart the soil moisture ranks in the l the South Plains.	event occurred during the month of Novemb ived 1.50 inches of rainfall. However, areas o er inch. Soil moisture outside of areas with i owest first percentile. Cattle continued to red	er. A significant a on the Caprock rec rrigation remains	mount of rainfall v eived significantly very low, especial	vas observed in Stonewall / less rainfall with values ly on the Caprock where noderate drought (D1). Only one notable precipitation County where Aspermont rece on the order of up to one quart the soil moisture ranks in the l the South Plains.	event occurred during the month of Novemb ived 1.50 inches of rainfall. However, areas o er inch. Soil moisture outside of areas with i owest first percentile. Cattle continued to red	er. A significant a on the Caprock rec rrigation remains	mount of rainfall v eived significantly very low, especial	vas observed in Stonewall / less rainfall with values ly on the Caprock where
moderate drought (D1). Only one notable precipitation County where Aspermont rece on the order of up to one quart	event occurred during the month of Novemb ived 1.50 inches of rainfall. However, areas of er inch. Soil moisture outside of areas with i owest first percentile. Cattle continued to rea	er. A significant a on the Caprock rec rrigation remains	mount of rainfall \ eived significantly very low, especial I feed amid poor p	vas observed in Stonewall v less rainfall with values ly on the Caprock where pasture conditions on
moderate drought (D1). Only one notable precipitation County where Aspermont rece on the order of up to one quart the soil moisture ranks in the l the South Plains. (TX-Z022) CASTRO, (TX-Z029)	event occurred during the month of Novemb ived 1.50 inches of rainfall. However, areas of er inch. Soil moisture outside of areas with i owest first percentile. Cattle continued to rea HALE 11/24/20 14:13 CST	er. A significant a n the Caprock rec rrigation remains juire supplementa g, dry winds to th	mount of rainfall v eived significantly very low, especial I feed amid poor p 0 0 0	vas observed in Stonewall v less rainfall with values ly on the Caprock where basture conditions on High Wind (MAX 54 kt) ought high based
moderate drought (D1). Only one notable precipitation County where Aspermont rece on the order of up to one quart the soil moisture ranks in the li- the South Plains. (TX-Z022) CASTRO, (TX-Z029) A strong upper level storm sys convection which produced iso Texas mesonet.	event occurred during the month of Novemb ived 1.50 inches of rainfall. However, areas of er inch. Soil moisture outside of areas with i owest first percentile. Cattle continued to rea HALE 11/24/20 14:13 CST 11/24/20 14:50 CST tem moving across the Plains brought stron	er. A significant a n the Caprock rec rrigation remains quire supplementa g, dry winds to the gusts were repor	mount of rainfall v eived significantly very low, especial I feed amid poor p 0 0 0	vas observed in Stonewall v less rainfall with values ly on the Caprock where basture conditions on High Wind (MAX 54 kt) ought high based moderate drought (D1). Only one notable precipitation County where Aspermont rece on the order of up to one quart the soil moisture ranks in the li- the South Plains. (TX-Z022) CASTRO, (TX-Z029) A strong upper level storm sys convection which produced iso Texas mesonet. 62 mph at Abernathy (Hale Cou	event occurred during the month of Novemb ived 1.50 inches of rainfall. However, areas of er inch. Soil moisture outside of areas with i owest first percentile. Cattle continued to red HALE 11/24/20 14:13 CST 11/24/20 14:50 CST tem moving across the Plains brought stron plated severe wind gusts. The following wind	er. A significant a n the Caprock rec rrigation remains quire supplementa g, dry winds to the gusts were repor	mount of rainfall v eived significantly very low, especial I feed amid poor p 0 0 0	vas observed in Stonewall v less rainfall with values ly on the Caprock where basture conditions on High Wind (MAX 54 kt) ought high based
moderate drought (D1). Only one notable precipitation County where Aspermont rece on the order of up to one quart the soil moisture ranks in the li- the South Plains. (TX-Z022) CASTRO, (TX-Z029) A strong upper level storm sys convection which produced iso Texas mesonet.	event occurred during the month of Novemb ived 1.50 inches of rainfall. However, areas of er inch. Soil moisture outside of areas with i owest first percentile. Cattle continued to red HALE 11/24/20 14:13 CST 11/24/20 14:50 CST tem moving across the Plains brought stron plated severe wind gusts. The following wind	er. A significant a n the Caprock rec rrigation remains quire supplementa g, dry winds to the gusts were repor	mount of rainfall v eived significantly very low, especial I feed amid poor p 0 0 0	vas observed in Stonewall v less rainfall with values ly on the Caprock where basture conditions on High Wind (MAX 54 kt) ought high based

A compact upper level closed low quickly moved across eastern New Mexico and West Texas on the morning of the 28th. Temperatures dropped enough during the early morning hours for rain to change to all snow in Parmer County. A cooperative weather observer in Friona measured 1.0 inches of snow.