How do clouds form?

Clouds form and grow when there is more condensation than evaporation taking place.

Water vapor condenses onto cloud condensation nuclei, once the parcel reaches 100% RH.

As the parcel rises, it expands due to lowering pressure.

A parcel rises and cools.

Warm, moist air above the ground.

Ground heating.

Sun heating.