Widespread rainfall of 1 to 3 inches over the past several days has saturated soils across eastern NC.

Heavy rainfall remains possible through at least Wednesday, bringing the potential for flash flooding of low and poor drainage areas.

The greatest threat for flash flooding is along and east of US Hwy 17, and in more urban areas.

NEVER drive through flooded areas!