Tropical Depression #15 is forecast to track well out to sea and bring little to no impact to eastern NC.

Overview
Tropical Depression 15 has developed off the coast of eastern North Carolina.

TD 15 is expected to pass offshore tonight, then move quickly out to sea over the next couple of days, potentially strengthening into Tropical Storm Nana.

Impacts
Increased swell from Tropical Depression 15 will bring an elevated rip current risk to area beaches Tuesday.

• The strongest rip currents will likely occur within a couple hours either side of low tide, which is forecast to occur around 2-3 PM EDT Tuesday.
• Rip currents are dangerous for all levels of swimmers. Heed the advice of the local beach patrol and flag warning systems.

Otherwise, no significant impacts are expected for eastern North Carolina.
