

Daily Weather Briefing

July 3, 2026
4:13 AM EDT

Key Messages:

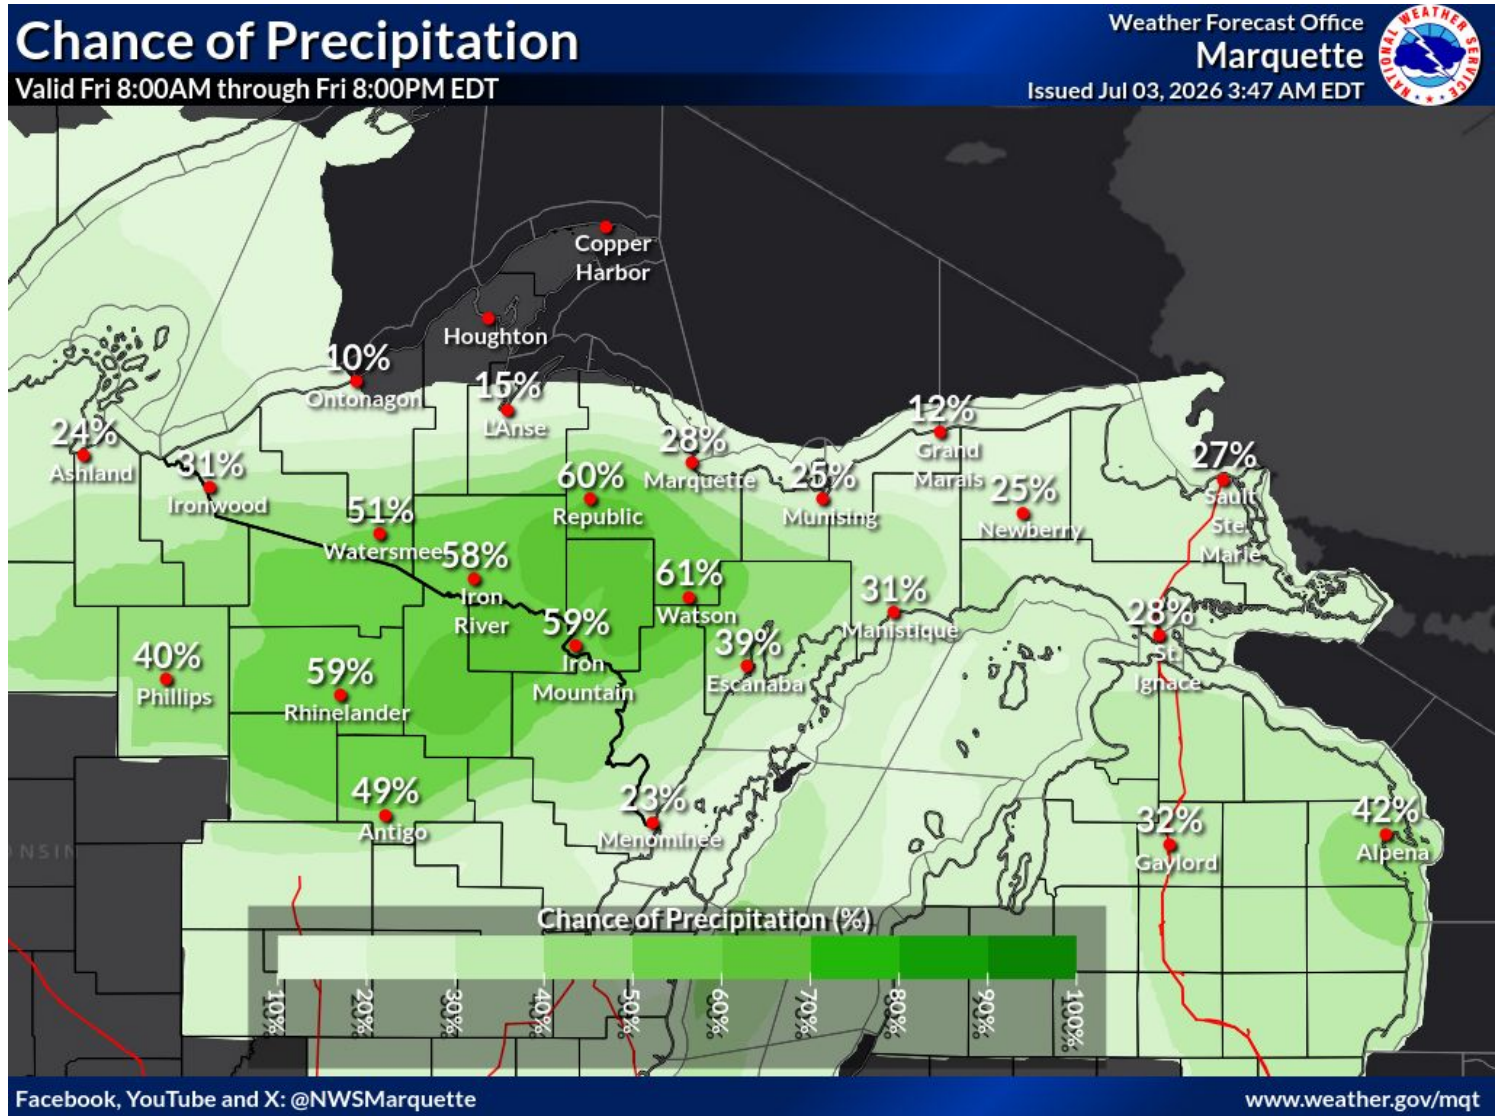

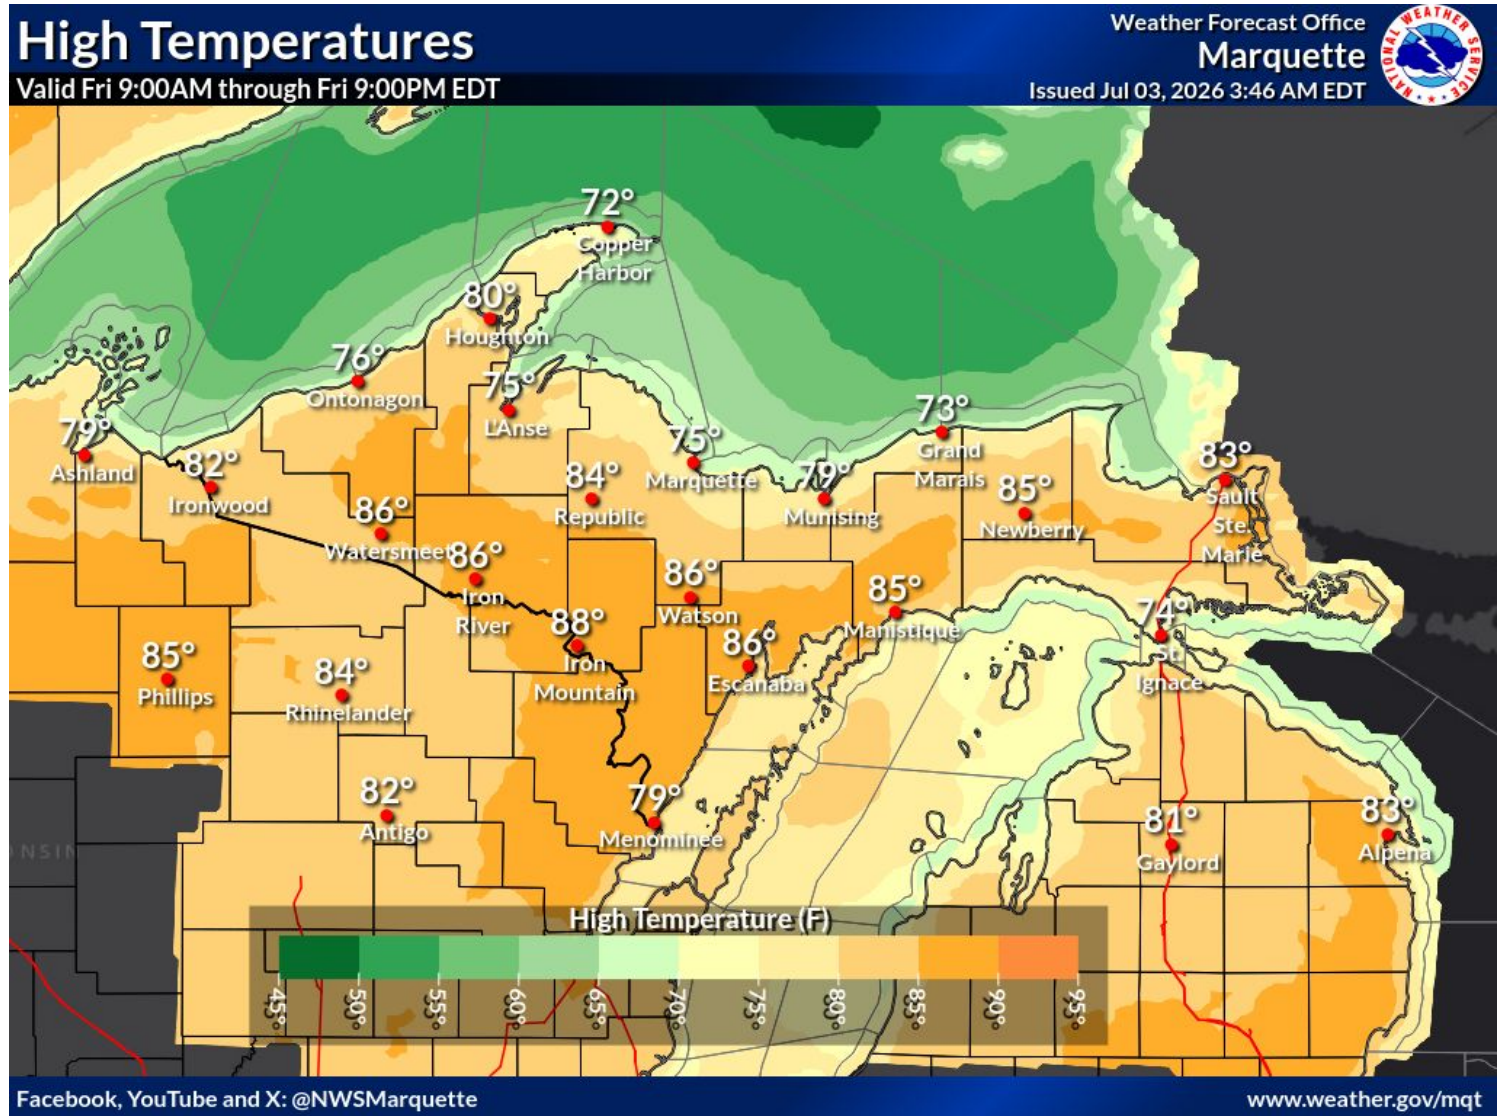

- It will be very warm and humid today though the heat index will remain below heat advisory criteria. Be sure to stay hydrated and have a way to cool off.
- There is a marginal risk (<15% chance) for strong to severe thunderstorms today over the southern U.P., some of which could produce small hail and damaging winds.
- Temperatures will be closer to average for the holiday weekend along with notably drier air as dew points fall back into the 50s to low 60s.
