Subject:      National Tropical Cyclone Watch Warning Product
              (TCV) Product Collaboration Tests to run start run
              May 13-16, 2019

The National Hurricane Center (NHC), the Ocean Prediction Center (OPC), the Weather Prediction Center (WPC), and NWS Weather Forecast Offices (WFOs) in the NWS Southern Region and in the NWS Eastern Region, will test internal software and hardware of the national tropical cyclone watch/warning (TCV) product collaboration process for the Atlantic basin on Monday, May 13 and continue daily through Thursday, May 16, 2019.

Internal testing will begin at approximately 1400 Greenwich Mean Time (GMT) and terminate at 1900 GMT daily during scheduled test days. In the event of inclement weather, Friday, May 17, 2019, has been reserved to serve as backup date for any portion of testing that was delayed.

Internal TCV test products are not intended to be released externally through NWS dissemination and communication systems. The text products affected by collaboration testing are the National Tropical Cyclone Watch/Warning (TCV) products issued under the following AWIPS Product Identifiers (PILs) and World Meteorological Organization (WFO) Identifiers (IDs):

TCV Product	AWIPS PIL	WMO ID
-----	-----	-----
Preliminary TCV	PTCAT/1-5/	WTNT/81-85/ KNHC
National TCV	TCVAT/1-5/	WTNT/81-85/ KNHC

In addition, the following National Digital Forecast Database (NDFD) elements will be created for this test:

- Tropical cyclone wind probabilities (incremental and cumulative) for 34 kt, 50 kt, and 64 kt
- Hazard grid (including tropical storm, hurricane, and storm surge hazards)

Periodic NHC and WFO internal software and hardware testing will continue during the remainder of 2019. The national TCV product for the Atlantic Basin will contain a summary of NHC/WFO collaborated wind and/or storm surge watches and warnings, depicted by NWS-defined geographic zones.
