Subject: National Weather Service (NWS) Implementation of Updated Naming Conventions per Executive Order 14172

NWS is in the process of implementing Executive Order 14172, "Restoring Names that Honor American Greatness." Work is underway to update naming conventions as quickly as possible on online maps, weather products, websites and other materials across the NWS. Caution will be exercised to avoid disruptions to operations.

Users may notice a phased implementation of these changes as the agency works to update all products, services, and documentation with the utmost expediency. Additional Service Change Notices (SCNs) will be issued as needed for modifications made to NWS products and services with additional details for users.
