 Chief, Evaluation and Verification Unit
 NWS/Office of Modeling and Development

Subject: Addition of AIGFS/AIGEFS/HGEFS model verification to the National Weather Service's Modeling and Development Evaluation and Verification System (EVS) Effective Immediately.

Effective June 17, 2026, the National Weather Service will add two new websites to the National Weather Service's Modeling and Development Evaluation and Verification System. The two websites will display verification information for OMD's AI Global Forecast System (AIGFS), and the AI Global Ensemble Forecast System (AIGEFS)/Hybrid Global Ensemble Forecast System (HGEFS). The websites can be found at the following URLs:

<https://emc.ncep.noaa.gov/users/verification/global/aigfs/prod/>

<https://emc.ncep.noaa.gov/users/verification/global/aigefts/prod/>

Each site will contain graphical plots that display how the models are performing against observations and gridded analyses, using various metrics.

More information on the NWS AI model systems can be found at:
