Subject: Soliciting Comments through May 31, 2011 on an Experimental Web Hazards Map

NWS is accepting comments through May 31, 2011, on an experimental web hazards map online at:

<http://www.srh.noaa.gov/ridge2/newmap/>

This proposed web service is in response to numerous comments and suggestions for improved data display and interaction, and takes advantage of the capabilities of modern web browsers. Using the experimental web hazards map, users can access hazardous weather information, NWS routine weather forecasts and observations, and links to local NWS Weather Forecast Office (WFO) web pages.

NWS partners and users are encouraged to provide feedback via a comment link at the top of the experimental web hazards map or directly at:
