Subject: Soliciting Comments until July 01, 2012 on NOHRSC Model Expansion and Forecast
Experimental Products

NWS is accepting comments until July 01, 2012, on NOHRSC model expansion and forecast experimental products.

The NOHRSC is implementing the following two model enhancements:

1. Expanding the model's geospatial domain into Canada to include the Great Lakes drainage area
2. Executing the model in a 72 hour forecast mode where the first 18 forecast hours are forced by output from the Rapid Refresh model and the remaining 54 hours are forced by output from the North American Mesoscale model.
