FROM: Jeremy Warren
 Acting NWS Chief Information Officer

SUBJECT: Discontinuing the Experimental Southern Region (SR) Experimental Southern Region
 (SR) Mapping Application Program Interface
 (API) Widget: Effective Immediately

Effective immediately, the Experimental Southern Region (SR) Mapping API Widget and Mobile Web Page used a geographic information system (GIS) map service that is no longer available to the NWS. As a result, the NWS can no longer provide the experimental widget and web page.

The Experimental SR Mapping API Widget and Mobile Web Page service were intended to bring together a variety of geospatial data products on the same background map for analysis and decision making. A new common mapping interface to provide this service is currently under development.
