Subject: New Services and Updates to the NWS IDP GIS
 Effective date June 24, 2019

Effective on or about Monday, June 24, 2019, beginning at 1400 Coordinated Universal Time (UTC), the National Centers for Environmental Prediction (NCEP) Central Operations (NCO), in coordination with NOAA/NWS Office of Dissemination (ODIS) will upgrade the Integrated Dissemination Program (IDP) Geographic Information System (GIS) Services to version 2.3.

In 2014, NWS stood up a new project within the Integrated Dissemination Program (IDP) to move GIS web services from a research/proof-of-concept posture into fully operational status. The goal of the project was to stand-up GIS systems, established standards, and allow for consistent dissemination formats and protocols across several NOAA datasets and products.

Two GIS stacks have been stood-up. One stack runs Environmental Systems Research Institute (ESRI) ArcGIS server and the other stack runs Boundless OpenGeo Server. Both stacks aim to disseminate GIS services using standards outlined by the Open Geospatial Consortium (OGC). GIS is served out of the NOAA operational center with 24/7 support and is geographically diverse with two separate locations to enhance availability.

IDP-GIS will provide users with access to the new products as web mapping services and has fixed some existing service:
