FROM: Mike Angove, Chief (acting)
 NWS Marine, Tropical, and Tsunami Services Branch

SUBJECT: Termination of the NWS Pacific Tsunami Warning Center (PTWC)
Website Effective March 6, 2020

On March 6, 2020, the NWS will terminate the Pacific Tsunami Warning
Center (PTWC) website:
<https://ptwc.weather.gov/>
Beginning February 10, 2020, a permanent redirect will be put in place to <https://tsunami.gov/>

this legacy website was launched many years ago to provide tsunami information for PTWC's Designated Service Areas in the Pacific and the Caribbean. In recent years, the website tsunami.gov has been developed, which includes tsunami-related information and near real-time products from PTWC and the National Tsunami Warning Center (NTWC). The original NTWC website was replaced when tsunami.gov went online.

Since development of tsunami.gov, the information and products displayed on the PTWC website have become duplicative, and therefore do not need to be displayed on both sites.

An automatic redirect from the original PTWC URL to tsunami.gov will be established to make the transition seamless to users.
