Dense fog reduced visibilities to a quarter mile or less across the area causing hazardous driving conditions. Many traffic accidents were reported due to foggy conditions. One man was injured when he was hit by a train in Lincoln county. Another person was injured in one of several accidents that occurred in the same area of Stephens county. The fog eventually burned off by midday

A strong cold front moved across the area causing precipitation that initially fell as rain or drizzle to freeze on roads and other surfaces. One to three inches of snow also fell across the area. Strong winds gusting above 40 mph caused visibility problems from the blowing snow. Temperatures behind the front continued to fall throughout the day eventually reaching single digits in some areas. With falling temperatures, strong north winds, and snow, numerous traffic accidents occurred across the area due to slick and hazardous roads. Two fatalities occurred a mile north of I-40 on Highway 377 in Pottawatomie county. Seven injuries were reported due to other accidents.
