Purpose

Command RUN processes the previously specified input.

The command is used in two cases:

> o when running in a batch mode when comments are to be output
>   before the next command

> o when running in an interactive mode where, without a RUN >   statement, processing of the input data is not completed until >   the next command is encountered

Format

    @RUN