

Today's Thunderstorm Outlook

Weather Message of the Day:

✓ Strong to severe storms are possible in Natrona and Johnson counties this afternoon and evening. Hail, strong wind gusts and heavy rain will be the threats. Elsewhere, thunderstorms with potential heavy rain and small hail this afternoon and tonight.

Impacts:

✓ Potential for Flash Flooding or general low land flooding due to runoff from prolonged heavy rain. Roads to be impacted by water and debris. Hail accumulation on roadways to cause hazardous driving conditions.

Reminders and Resources

Spotters, Facebook and Twitter followers in our area are encouraged to call, or post pictures and storm reports. Thank you!

Frequent lightning will occur with stronger storms. Take shelter indoors and get off of lakes or reservoirs before storms approach.

Small hail is expected with most strong storms. Large to damaging hail will occur with severe storms.

Wind gusts of 30 to 40 MPH are likely with stronger storms. Higher gusts possible in severe storms.

Prolonged heavy rain will likely cause flash flooding and extreme runoff. State and County roads could be impacted by high water.
