Key Points

- Favorable conditions for patchy frost are expected Monday and Tuesday mornings.

- A Frost Advisory is posted from 1 am to 9 am Monday for the western half of the forecast area.

- Gardeners may want to protect tender vegetation that may still be growing.

What Has Changed

- Frost Advisory is posted for late tonight / Monday morning for the western half of the forecast area.
Patchy Frost Tuesday Morning

Tuesday’s Lows in the Middle 30s

Forecast Low Temperatures Tuesday

National Weather Service
Topeka, KS

October 15, 2023
2:42 PM
A frost advisory is issued during the growing season when widespread frost formation is expected. Surface temperatures are often in the mid-30s Fahrenheit.