

Example #5 – Upgrade Point-Based Flood Advisory to Point-Based Flood Warning. Heavy rainfall persists longer than expected over the Florida panhandle and the Tallahassee WFO decides that the flood advisory for the Choctawhatchee River at Caryville needs to be upgraded to a flood warning.

WGUS82 KTAE 022300
FLWTAE

Flood Message
National Weather Service Tallahassee, FL
600 pm EST Mon Jan 02 2012

FLCO59-133-032300
/O.UPG.KTAE.FL.Y.0001.120103T0000Z-120104T1800Z
/CARF1.N.ER.000000T0000Z.000000T0000Z.000000T0000Z.OO
/O.NEW.KTAE.FL.W.0001.120103T0500Z-120105T1200Z
/CARF1.N.ER.120103T0600Z.120103T1800Z.120105T1200Z.OO
600 pm EST Mon Jan 02 2012

FLOOD WARNING

The National Weather Service in Tallahassee has upgraded the flood advisory to a

- * Flood Warning for
Choctawhatchee River at Caryville
- * From this evening until Thursday morning
- * At 600 pm Monday the stage was 11.9 feet
- * Flood stage is 12.0 feet
- * Forecast...the river will rise to flood stage around midnight and crest at 12.5 feet by tomorrow afternoon. The river will fall below flood stage Thursday morning.
- * Impact...at 12.0 feet...extensive lowland flooding will occur.

$$